In Memory of Lynne E. Clements

It was around 2010 when Lynne and I first discussed holding a film festival in Ridgewood. She was a customer of mine at Mango Jam for a number of years. She loved the Sidewalk Sale and, over the years, purchased many of my custom wreaths. She came in one day and told me of the film festival she created in Bergenfield.

“I’ve always thought Ridgewood would be the perfect town to do a film festival with all the culture in town.”

She loved Ridgewood and chose to open her office here. She asked if the Ridgewood Guild would be interested in hosting. This was our inaugural year. We were just getting started. To this day I still remember my response. “I’m a huge film fan, but don’t know anything about running a film festival.” She enthusiastically said she would guide me, and so she did. Our first festival was planned for the spring of 2011. It was a huge success. To this day, we still accept films from all genres: documentaries, short subjects, foreign films, music videos, and her favorite category, student films. In this, our 13th year, in honor of Lynne, we created the Lynne Clements Memorial Award for the "Most Promising Student Filmmaker." One talented student will be the recipient of an award. How ironic that this year our Warner Theater closed its doors and Lynne decided to leave us.

But there was much more to Lynne than the Ridgewood Guild. She was a clinical psychologist who held her business, Corporate Family Resources, in Ridgewood for over 25 years. She changed location in town 3 times before relocating to Midland Park. Sadly, soon after I helped her set up shop, she became ill.

Lynne was born and raised in Bergenfield and lived there until her passing. She leaves behind her beloved husband Lou, who was also a film festival committee member and Ridgewood Guild volunteer. Her elder son Ryan followed in his mother's footsteps in the therapeutic field and resides on Long Island. Her younger son Glenn resides in L.A. and is a successful screen writer. Most recently, Glenn wrote for James Cordon's Carpool Karaoke. She adored her three grandchildren and proudly showed off their pictures whenever the opportunity rose. In addition, she spoke fondly of her cousins in Australia, oftentimes telling us stories about one cousin who was in the acting profession.

Lynne held several degrees including one from Harvard. She proudly sat on the Board of the Gifted Child and was adored by her clients, family, and friends.

To me personally, Lynne was the most kind, nurturing person I ever met. She would lend her trained ear to anyone who needed some helpful advice. She was there for many of us who were in need.

Lynne, you will be greatly missed by your Ridgewood Guild colleagues and all who have had the pleasure to have known you.

Rest in Peace dear friend.

Tony Damiano, Executive Director – The Ridgewood Guild

A Note From Our Committee Chair. . .

I would like to sincerely thank everyone who is attending this year's film festival or made a movie that we have all come to watch. In this day and age where so many people consume movies from their couch at home, I find it refreshing to watch movies communally at a real theater with other human beings!

I guess that makes me old-fashioned but I'm happy that I am not alone in that belief. So welcome to the Ridgewood Guild International Film Festival!

This year hasn't been easy. Perhaps because this is our 13th iteration, we have experienced some bad luck seemingly from the start of the season. Just three months ago we learned that the movie theater we reserved to screen our movies, just like we have for the past dozen years, was suddenly closing. It is a big loss for the Village of Ridgewood and for our film festival. We did our best exploring alternate venues in town to keep the festival where it was meant to be, but in the end no school or church or community center or other venue in Ridgewood offered us what we and the filmmakers want – a large screen in a real movie theater environment. In the end we decided to screen our movies in Westwood at its classic movie theater. Westwood shares a lot of similarities with Ridgewood including its charming downtown filled with shops and restaurants. And the people at Celebrate Westwood welcomed us with open arms, which was much appreciated!

With many trials and tribulations this year, it was imperative that we had a film committee up to the task. And in my first year as the chair of the committee, it was comforting to know that our committee still retained as members past chairs Lynne

Clements, Tony Damiano and Dotti Fucito whom I relied on heavily. Tragically, co-founder Lynne Clements passed away in February and we miss her dearly. From when I first joined the committee in 2015, Lynne was always very encouraging and complimentary. Her positivity helped me through some trying times. Tony has continued to work tirelessly for the festival and the Ridgewood Guild generally, and there would be no festival without him and the sponsors he continues to attract so that we can afford to run the festival. And Dotti has been irreplaceable. I learned a lot last year under her tutelage but there is still so much I do not know, and I could not have pulled this festival together if she had not stayed on and essentially acted as my co-chair.

Thanks also goes to the rest of the committee – RJ Konner, Celia Austin, Lou Clements, Rahul Bhatia, Rosie McCooe, Mark Leschinsky and Andrea Leonarz. Special praise goes to Rosie who came up with good ideas and followed through on them. It is because of Rosie that we have the honor of presenting Harlan Coben for a lengthy interview and Question & Answer session with our audience, as well as the New Jersey premiere of a feature-length movie, The Zombie Wedding.

I would also like to thank the film industry professionals who have volunteered to judge the more than 50 films that we accepted into the festival this year: Dana Glazer, Vincent Veloso, RJ Konner and Suzanne Ordas Curry. They spent countless hours watching films and providing ratings so that we can award winners of the best student films, documentaries, shorts, and so on. Very much appreciated!

I hope you are as excited to watch this year's slate of independent films as we are to present them to you. Sit back and enjoy! And then let us know what you think so that next year's festival is even better.

-Jim Suozzo

TONY DAMIANO - Executive Director.

Tony founded the Ridgewood Guild in 2010. The Ridgewood Guild is an amazing organization that became an overnight success. The Guild has currently over 400 members making it the largest organization in Ridgewood! It is made up of local merchants and residents alike. Tony encourages everyone to join The Ridgewood Guild to help fund events such as the Film Festival, Movies in the Park, Music in the Night, Art in the Park, Oktoberfest, Winterfest, etc.

JIM SUOZZO – Committee Chair

Jim has been a committee member since 2016 and this year has taken on the task of Film Festival Committee Chair. He has worked tirelessly to create a successful Film Festival expanding it to a 4th night, creating a networking room, and working with our filmmakers to create an enjoyable atmosphere for all.

DOTTI FUCITO – Former Committee Chair

Not only is Dotti an Advisory Director of The Ridgewood Guild, she has chaired the Film Festival for 7 years. Her knowledge and dedication is undaunting. We thank Dotti for her continued work on the committee.

Q and A sessions will take place with some of our filmmakers throughout the night. Look for their schedule in this brochure and feel free to ask questions regarding their films. Look for Q and A sessions by Harlan Coben, Rosemarie D’Alessandro (Daughter of Mine), Greg D’Alessandro and others from the NJ premier of The Zombie Wedding.

In my cultural tradition, names are bestowed as precious gifts by our parents. Nevertheless, as I traversed the path of my upbringing, I found myself harboring reservations about the names bestowed upon me. These names elicited within me a complex blend of emotions, from identity quandaries to bewilderment, from moments of regret to wellsprings of joy. At certain junctures along my life's journey, I even contemplated relinquishing my original name in favor of a new one. However, a profound realization dawned upon me: my name serves as the indelible thread that binds me to my past, shaping the person I was and the person I have become. Names are not merely labels but precious gifts, each one bearing a unique significance.

A 165-year-old man tells the story of his incredible life to his college-age Great, Great, Great niece, and teaches the young woman that it's not how long you live, but how you live.

Daughter of Mine

36:23 - New York, NY

Documentary

Vanessa Martino - Filmmaker

In 1973, seven-year-old Joan D'Alessandro asked her mother Rosemarie if she could deliver a box of Girls Scout cookies to the neighbor and that was the last time Rosemarie saw Joan alive. Twenty years later, under the threat of the murderer's impending release, with the help of her community, Rosemarie fought to keep him in prison.

In her fight, Rosemarie D'Alessandro began a movement, bringing awareness to the impact parole hearings had on the well-being of families that have lost children to violent crime. As she fought for other families, her's began to break apart. Rosemarie became a symbol of hope for her community and a rallying point for victims' parents nationwide. She found strength in her memories of Joan and the belief that something good should come from what happened to her.

When I started to make this film, it was a portrait of a local hero; a mother who dedicated her entire life to her daughter's legacy. Throughout the process, it evolved into an exploration of Rosemarie's journey with grief. I wanted to examine grief as this universal human experience through the lens of the D'Alessandro family. What I did not expect was how I would evolve during the making of this film. Rosemarie introduced me to the incredible community she created for her and her sons and they welcomed me without pretense. Joan's Joy, the organization founded by Rosemarie, is a diverse open-hearted community dedicated to child safety but they are more than an advocacy group; they are a family.

Daughter of Mine is a portrait of a mother's love and loss. It is about the violent rupture of a family.

The Worst Best Man Ever

25:00 - Rochester, NY

Short

David M Weilert - Filmmaker

Kevin asks his best friend Sam to be his best man, not realizing that Sam doesn't like his fiancé. A blast from the past shows up and he begins to question his relationship and his life choices.

Not the Same Clarence

14:24 - Fairfield, CT

Short

Brian Russell and Samuel B Russell,
Filmmakers

A man must come to terms with his father's Alzheimer's disease.

Director Statement: This story began years ago when Brian visited an older friend on a memory care ward, and the friend actually said the words now in the film: "I know the code. I can escape." From that seed, sprung the initial concept for this story. But it became our first-hand experience when Sam's grandfather (and Brian's father-in-law) began experiencing memory loss, and was subsequently diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease.

The Journey

3:38 - Bloomfield, NJ
Music Video

Andrew Pearson - Filmmaker

A guitar arrangement of the Bernie Holland song traces mans' evolution from the primordial swamp to self realisation.

Banana Tree

16:46 - Florida
Animation

Scott Kane - Filmmaker

In this magical world, a peculiarly sentient banana plant is threatened by a fast-moving epidemic. Will a solitary farmer enlist the help he needs in time to save the bananas?

BANANA TREE, told in a short animated dramatic comedy form, is ultimately a cautionary tale of one plant's vulnerability to a spreading TR4 Panama disease epidemic. In a remote field, an idealistic farmer contends with the practical questions posed by his only human friend, as he resists the temptation to quit. However, his ties to another companion, a favorite Banana Tree, pull him back again and again.

New York Minute

4:37 - New York, NY
Experimental

Lynn Bianchi - Filmmaker

This work continues Lynn Bianchi's relationship with New York City and its inhabitants - her home and inspiration since 1968. New York Minute was developed and created during lockdown - the year of loneliness and isolation - yet Lynn never felt lonely because the city was right outside her window - still alive and forever hopeful. A love letter to New York, this work is an abstraction of one day in the city - from dawn till dusk - moments that last a minute, or maybe a lifetime.

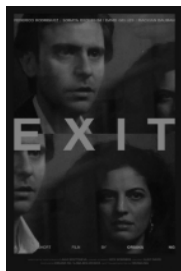

Undress me

16:00 - Paris, France
International

Florent Médina, Maxime Vaudano
- Filmmakers

Antoine, a young introvert PhD student, pays Anaïs, a camgirl, for an online striptease. But Anaïs is tired of the camshows' routine and does not feel like undressing. She decides to impose her own rules: if Antoine wants her to undress, he has to take off his clothes as well. First distraught, Antoine ends up giving in to Anaïs' desire and joins her in a sensual striptease duo that will shake up his own idea of pleasure.

EXIT

5:13 - Brooklyn, NY
Short

Oriana Ng - Filmmaker

A dangerous elevator ride tests a couple's bond.

Director Statement: This story came to me as I was considering society's expectations of gender roles in a heterosexual relationship. Max and Marie are a strong and loving couple - they think of themselves as independent, modern, progressive. When they are attacked by two strangers in the elevator, Max, an upper middle-class, successful man, who always thought of himself as the provider, fails to protect Marie in that small but crucial moment.

MugShot

1:47 - Ridgewood, NJ
Short

Paulina Knaak, Messalina Morley
- Filmmakers

A young couple's fight about house chores escalates to an absurd end.

Director Statement: MugShot started as a writing challenge for myself. I wanted to see if I could write a compelling, comedic and complete story that was less than 90 seconds. I focused on a feeling many of us have, the fear of adopting our parents' worst qualities.

Why I Had To Kill You

While You Slept

16:00 - Manalapan Township, NJ
Short

Anthony Marinelli - Filmmaker

A dark comedy about a not-so-desperate housewife who decides to kill her terrible husband and enlists her best friend for moral support. Based on true stories by Lisa Riva and Bradley Griffiths.

Director Statement: I like stories that are gritty and dark but also funny because it's through humor that we discover the ways we are all connected. We all have our demons, we all love passionately or intensely, and we all find ourselves broken at times. It is my goal as a filmmaker and director to dig below the surface and find the truth in human behavior, strip away the social masks, and perhaps find a way to laugh at ourselves.

The Monarchs of Cape May

12:58 - Brooklyn NY Documentary

Katarina Pittis - Filmmaker

A documentary on the critical role that Cape May, NJ plays in the eastern migration of monarchs to Mexico each year. It follows members of the New Jersey Audubon and Monarch Monitoring Project as they tag and track the monarchs passing through.

American Dream

2:55 - McLean, Virginia
Student Film

Renee Shi - Filmmaker

This is a story of a young girl's day at school, bright and cheerful until the sound of gunshots rings in her ears. Her best friend dies in the shooting, and she must walk through the tainted hallways of her school once again. This animation is dedicated to the victims of school shooting tragedies.

Open Guard

33:24 - New Jersey
Documentary

Ben Hubert - Filmmaker

As Ben approaches his 40th birthday, haunted by missed opportunities, he grapples with an unfinished documentary on his decade-old passion for Mixed Martial Arts (MMA). Having never stepped into the ring himself, Ben yearns to understand the visceral experience of fighters. Fueled by a newfound determination to live without regrets, he embarks on a transformative journey taking up MMA training and resurrecting his documentary.

RIP, LOL

16:22 - New York, NY
Short

Charles Coleman, Khaya Fraites - Filmmakers

NYU Student, Willow, goes back home to Richmond, Virginia with her best friend Jackie as her support system, to see her parents and ‘celebrate’ what would have been her older brother’s 26th birthday. RIP, LOL is an examination of grief and how loss affects an entire family.

The 2024 production of Jamboree takes us on a cruise through singing, dancing and acting.

Since 1947, RHS Jamboree parent and guardian volunteers have presented an original musical revue to raise need-based scholarship funds for college-bound Ridgewood High School seniors.

In 2023-24, RHS Jamboree raised an amazing $244,000 in scholarship funds! In fact, over the last 15 years, RHS Jamboree has raised more than $2 Million for hundreds of worthy applicants. All fund revenues are raised through program advertising, ticket sales, and corporate and individual sponsorships.

Thank you to our generous community of support for helping make a difference in the lives of these deserving young adults.
